The course will take place daily from Sunday to Thursday as follows: 29/8, 30/8, 31/9, 1/9, 2/9.

Teaching Assistant (TA): N/A

Office Hours: 0506203126

Course Units

1 course unit = 4 ECTS units

The ECTS (European Credit Transfer and Accumulation System) is a framework defined by the European Commission to allow for unified recognition of student academic achievements from different countries.

Course Description

This course aims to introduce students to the fundamental concepts and principles of non-product branding in the context of managing the reputation and performance of places, cities, regions and countries.

The course will explore key concepts and terminology in the following fields: public diplomacy, marketing, nation branding and place positioning with a strong emphasis on the economic value of places as brands .

Through several case studies and real-life examples, the class will examine the rise of nation branding and how the information revolution has brought about a fundamental paradigm shift that has affected the goals and methods of traditional policy making, diplomacy and marketing .

The course will explore, from a practitioner's point of view, the impact this revolution has had on the core practice of diplomacy, how places present themselves, manage their reputation and handle crises .

The course does not assume any specific previous knowledge of non-product branding. A general familiarity with the idea of places as brands should be a sufficient foundation.

The course is divided into 5 sessions. It'll serve as an intensive introduction through lectures, case studies, term paper and presentations .

Each session will explore a different dimension of the subject matter and will provide a practical model for non-product branding.

Course Objectives

1. Introduction to the fundamental concepts and principles of the Branding and marketing of non-products (ideas, places, etc.)
2. Ability to construct long-term strategy for places.
3. Ability to analyze the effectiveness of marketing efforts for places.
4. Ability to deploy and utilize the R-SWIM toolkit

Evaluation of Student and Composition of Grade

Percentage	Assignment	Date	Group Size/Comments
60%	Course Paper	Session 5
40%	Class Participation	Sessions 1-5

* According to University regulations, participation in all classes of a course is mandatory.

* Students who absent themselves from classes or do not actively participate in class may be removed from the course at the discretion of the lecturer. (Students remain financially liable for the course even if they are removed.)

Course Assignments

Your course assignment will consist of 2,500 words written term paper (an accompanying slide deck of not more than 15-20 slides, is optional) on the topic of 'Place Branding Model: An Analysis of a Specific Place'. Students will be assigned a specific site in Israel for the analysis. The written project is meant to assess the student's creativity and innovative abilities in the areas of public diplomacy and place branding. Student are expected to understand the material covered in class, apply their understanding and analyze one case as assigned. The written assignment should provide a detailed and comprehensive reflection of class material concerning all aspects of the course.

Frontal presentations are used as a method to assess understanding of the content, ability to organize and structure material. Presentations will also serve as a basis for class discussion. Student will be given several minutes each to verbally present their term paper or presentation (the exact amount will be determined by the number of students attending the class). Students may use audio-visual accessories for their presentations. Videos should be used only if critical to the understanding of the paper. The purpose of the presentation is not to examine the students' presentational skills.

Recommended structure for the written assignments:

- General (succinct summary of your paper, equivalent of abstract in longer papers)
- Introduction (goals of paper, methodology used, reference to the general context)
- Discussion (results of your inquiry, your own thoughts, reliance on class material)
- Conclusion (succinct reference to the main findings)
- Bibliography list

Students will submit a summary of their reading materials as requested. The report will include a succinct summary of the list of articles prior to each session.

Grading Policy

In the 2008/9 academic year the Faculty instituted a grading policy for all graduate level courses that aims to maintain a certain level of the final course grade. Accordingly, this policy will be applied to this course's final grades.

Additional information regarding this policy can be found on the Faculty website.

Evaluation of the Course by Student

Following completion of the course students will participate in a teaching survey to evaluate the instructor and the course, to provide feedback for the benefit of the students, the teachers and the university.

Course Site (Moodle)

The course site will be the primary tool to communicate messages and material to students. You should check the course site regularly for information on classes, assignments and exams, at the end of the course as well.

Course material will be available on the course site.

Please note that topics that are not covered in the course material but are discussed in class are considered integral to the course and may be tested in examinations.
